United Chemi-Con “Contractual Policy for Internet Inventory”

Posting of inventory quantities for purposes of e-commerce: Distributor may only post for sale on the internet, whether their own web site, or a third party web site, inventory that they own and that is in their direct possession. The quantity of product that is posted must not exceed that which is directly owned by the entity which is offering the product for sale over the internet. The posting of inventory quantities that are owned by a third party, including United Chemi-Con, or a related affiliate that is also posting that inventory for sale on the internet, is expressly forbidden. It is United Chemi-Con’s desire and intent to insure that the available for sale inventory for its products shown on the internet is not an overstatement of inventory held by the distribution channel so that end customers who rely on such information for planning purposes are not misled or misinformed.
